

CONTRACT OF PARTICIPATION for Degree- and Non-Degree Programs

This Contract of Participation is entered into by IPSL Global Institute and the undersigned applicant or participant, who is also referred to herein as “student” “me” or “I”.

I understand that I am expected to:

- Exhibit sensitivity to the host culture;
- Respect and follow the rules and expectations as mandated by my home and host institutions;
- Adhere to local rules and laws; and
- Accept and respect the IPSL host family agreement policies.

IPSL reserves the right to require withdrawal of any participant for reasons of, in IPSL’s sole determination, unacceptable personal conductor academic participation. A participant shall not be entitled to any refund if dismissed by IPSL.

The process for dismissal may proceed as set forth in this paragraph. However, IPSL reserves the right to accelerate the disciplinary action as determined in the sole and absolute discretion of IPSL. The Program Director will usually notify a participant of a concern initially as a verbal warning. However, should a further or new violation occur the Program Director may issue a written warning. Subsequently, the Program Director and participant may craft a “last chance” agreement. Participants will be dismissed from the program and sent home immediately upon any violation of the terms of the “last chance” agreement, and such dismissal shall not be appealable. IPSL reserves the right to dismiss a participant immediately if the Program Director or IPSL, in their sole and absolute discretion, believes immediate dismissal is warranted.

Please read the following rules to which you agree by signing this Contract:
